

About Coolest Women We Know

Coolest Women is a technology association with a unique, high-caliber membership of truly cool women in technology leadership positions. The group's mission is to provide networking, mentoring, promotion and support amongst women in technology careers and to help increase the number of women in Engineering and Science through programs and events. We're tearing down pre-existing stereotypes that smart women in technology need to be anything less than the absolute Coolest Women We Know. We are committed to fulfilling our mission through:

- Information/Experience Sharing and Networking Events
- Support and Mentoring Programs
- Thought Leadership Initiatives
- Educational Program Fundraising
- Entrepreneurial Support Programs
- Job & Internship Program Communications

Our Members

Coolest Women was founded in 2007 and the nearly 100 women members hold Director and above positions representing a broad range of technology-based professions and 90 leading edge organizations, including high-tech, financial services, healthcare, government, professional services and more. Members are hiring managers, corporate executives with line responsibility and entrepreneurs. All are driven leaders making a difference and improving the opportunities and work experience for women choosing technology careers.

Representative organizations include large companies such as Cisco, Broadcom, Polycom, Oracle, Regis University, University of Colorado Boulder, Webroot, Cisco, CTA, and Arrow Electronics; innovative startups and development, engineering and IT services firms.

What Makes Coolest Women We Know Unique?

There are many IT and women's organizations out there. CWWK is unique because:

- We build relationships - through sharing and involvement
- We help and support others – blending research, experience & opportunity
- We are committed to service – engaging others with passion and making the environment better for women in tech
- We put our money where our mouth is – all funds go towards achieving our mission

A cool woman has a unique perspective on life; filled with drive, energy and passion for business and technology as well as helping others, getting involved, sharing and driving real change and benefit. Cool Women make a meaningful difference in the lives of aspiring female technology professionals.

For more information contact: info@coolestwomen.org